

Democratic Leaders discuss the necessity of fairness in considerations of the budget and America's economy.